Advertising is based on the best available spot at the desired time. It can be a lower option if the corporate subscriber so wishes. Advertorials will be clearly identified as sponsored content and are the sole responsibility of the authors. NGW will only publish it and promote it via its usual channels (website, social media, newsletter). Social Media adverts will be delivered once a day on Twitter, LinkedIn and Facebook. Invitation to speak in NGW events will be done by consultation with the corporate subscriber and on the basis of its interests. Bespoke events are organized in direct consultation with the corporate subscriber and will not be less than one day (morning and afternoon sessions, plus one working meal). NGW will contribute with its staff time and will cover the costs up to $3000 (venue, meals, coffee break, extra staff, printed materials, etc.) Whenever the desired event goes beyond the foreseen $3000 the customer will be responsible for the remaining budget for the event. The budget for the events will be pre-agreed between NGW and the customer and NGW will maintain an open flow of communication with the corporate subscriber regarding the implementation of the events
